

THE SLUM IN THE FARMHOUSE - NAI WAI #1

A path under the highway leads to a slum controlled by an Indonesian lady who claims to be the owner. She shouts about late rent for 3 new arrivals, saying nothing about regular payments for 15 other refugees. Her shirtless cousin complained about refugees failing to pay electricity bills fixed at 300$ per room without running a single air-conditioning unit.

In Nai Wai, refugees are Big Business and easy picking for those who connect with ISS.
