

THE SLUM IN THE POSH CHICKEN FARM

YUEN LONG #7

It's clean, organized and has a granite yard, but also this location is illegally. It takes experience to notice it was formally a chicken and pig farm. From the rooftop the agricultural use is unmistakable.

The landlord reconstructed a long chicken shed into a guesthouse. A posh metal gate opens onto a tiled yard. There are 15 small rooms with wooden doors, but only 1 cooking area and 1 toilet.

This compound is relatively tidy. The investment pays a good return with 12 ISS clients from India, Pakistan, Indonesia and two African refugees who could not afford anything better or closer to town.

Off the beaten track into farmland

[VISION
FIRST]

SAFEGUARDING REFUGEE RIGHTS

The distant high-rises of Yuen Long

[VISION
FIRST]

SAFEGUARDING REFUGEE RIGHTS

A metal gate masks the true nature of this location

[VISION
FIRST]

SAFEGUARDING REFUGEE RIGHTS

[VISION
FIRST]

SAFEGUARDING REFUGEE RIGHTS

An abandoned
chicken shed seen from the rooftop

[VISION
FIRST]

SAFEGUARDING REFUGEE RIGHTS

This shed was turned into a guesthouse

[VISION
FIRST]

SAFEGUARDING REFUGEE RIGHTS

Bunk-beds for new arrivals

[VISION
FIRST]

SAFEGUARDING REFUGEE RIGHTS

[VISION
FIRST]

SAFEGUARDING REFUGEE RIGHTS

Efforts made to keep up appearances

[VISION
FIRST]

SAFEGUARDING REFUGEE RIGHTS

[VISION
FIRST]

SAFEGUARDING REFUGEE RIGHTS

The tiled floor seems out of place

[VISION
FIRST]

SAFEGUARDING REFUGEE RIGHTS

A clean environment is good business

[VISION
FIRST]

SAFEGUARDING REFUGEE RIGHTS

Wooden structures are unsafe

[VISION
FIRST]

SAFEGUARDING REFUGEE RIGHTS

15 meters
for 15 rooms reveal the true nature of this location

[VISION
FIRST]

SAFEGUARDING REFUGEE RIGHTS

One kitchen for all the residents to share

[VISION
FIRST]

SAFEGUARDING REFUGEE RIGHTS

A single toilet for the entire facility

[VISION
FIRST]

SAFEGUARDING REFUGEE RIGHTS

This landlord is NOT ripping off
his tenants

[VISION
FIRST]

SAFEGUARDING REFUGEE RIGHTS

Refugees say they want to move out

[VISION
FIRST]

SAFEGUARDING REFUGEE RIGHTS